OXFORD CONSISTORY COURT.

The CHANCELLOR of the diocese of Oxford (Sir W. Anson, M.P.) held a Court in Adam de Brome's Chapel of St. Mary's Church, Oxford, on Saturday afternoon to hear two petitions which had been presented to him relating to the parish church of Headington, near

The first petition by the parish churchwarden and parishioners asked for +1-a. removal of cartain articles from the church, including a picture of the Virgin or Virgin and Child, wooden altar steps as they were used by seven scolytes at the Communion service, curtains obscuring or partially obscuring the east window and the east window in the south aisle, and a scro I with the words "Adoremns in æternum sanctissimum Sacramentum" on the superaltar. The second petition, by the vicar (the Rev. R. W. Townson), asked for permission to make certain additions and alterations, including the placing of the old Communion table in the side chapel of the chancel, a new Communion table in the chancel of the church, a rood beam with Calvary group across the chancel such, and
